EPA is committed to working closely with response agencies and state and local officials to ensure the safety of citizens, respond to concerns and to evaluate impact to water contaminated by the Gold King Mine Release. EPA is sharing information as quickly as possible with the public as experts work to evaluate any effects the spill may have on drinking water, public health, agriculture, fish and wildlife.

Dear Sirs;

I certainly hope that someone will be held accountable for the recent damage done to the Animas and other waterways that EPA is charged with protecting. A discharge of this magnitude is unacceptable and the person(s) in charge should be dismissed, if not prosecuted. In addition, it would behoove your agency to explain exactly what led to this catastrophe. As an environmentalist and supporter of the EPA I am dismayed and disheartened. You just offered yourself up to your enemies in Congress, and our ecosystem is at stake. Please explain to us how such a thing could have happened on your watch.
